

A Dec. 27 article in HS Today highlights Gus' recent letter to the TSA asking for more information on the effectiveness of security screening techniques.

“Rep. Gus Bilirakis (R-Fla.) has written to John Pistole, administrator of the Transportation Security Administration (TSA), to request briefings on whether or not the whole body imaging devices and pat downs have allowed transportation security officers (TSOs) to detect more concealed weapons or other contraband,” the article says.
